Peoples' Voice Cafe

Composer, conductor, author, and multi-instrumentalist (piano, french horn, flute, guitar) David Amram is one of America's most honored and beloved musicians. He began his career as a French hornist for the National Symphony Orchestra in Washington in the 1950s, and later introduced the French horn to jazz, collaborating with Dizzy Gillespie, Thelonious Monk, Charles Mingus, and others. He created film scores for Splendor in the Grass (1961), Manchurian Candidate (1962), and the beat film Pull My Daisy (1959). He also wrote scores for Shakespeare in the Park in NYC and Arthur Miller. Working with Jack Kerouac, Langston Hughes, and others, Amram experimented with combining jazz and poetry. He has also collaborated with Bob Dylan,

Willie Nelson, Paquito D'Rivera, Tito Puente, and scores of others. We are honored to have the legendary David Amram perform this very special benefit concert for the Peoples' Voice Cafe.
