Pete Seeger Centennial Celebration

This year's celebration of Pete Seeger will be a historic one. It's Pete's 100th birthday! So in addition to having a rollicking good time featuring many of Pete's favorite songs, singalongs and compositions, you might also discover something you did not know about Pete's amazing and inspirational life. We will attempt in a two-hour program to cover many, if not most, of the different phases of his career, from his upbringing in a highly musical family and early influences through more than 75 years as a performer. Artists include Piedmont Blüz, Bev Grant, Hudson Valley Sally, Lindsey Wilson, Mike Glick, Vincent Cross, and maybe even a surprise guest or two! This concert will be a benefit for the Peoples' Voice Cafe.

Carolyn Hester

Folk legend Carolyn Hester, a pioneering figure in the Greenwich Village folk scene, came to New York in 1955 and recorded her first album for Coral Records in 1957. Known as a fiercely independent artist, she continues the work of a lifetime using her unique empathy to translate meaningful messages for her audience in the ongoing effort to create a better world. Her honeyed voice has raised up other artists to this calling, from Bob Dylan to Nancy Griffith. Tonight she will be joined by her daughters, Karla and Amy Blume, who continue the tradition of American folk singer songwriters. carolynhester.com

The Peace Poets

The Peace Poets are a family born of Hip Hop, heart, and hope in New York City. Some have been friends since childhood, and over time they have built an artist collective of poets, Hip Hop performers, and educators founded on this friendship and their common love for community and creative expression. Grounded in the power of personal narratives and community, The Peace Poets create art that can take you on a journey from the Boogie Down to Berlin, from the border to the bodega. thepeacepoets.com

Pam Parker

"Jazz vocalist Pam Parker blends Billie's precision with Aretha's brand of soul. Parker's been using her perfect, classic voice to lure in crowds for years—it's the combination of sweet tone, spot-on vibrato and something hauntingly reminiscent of jazz singers of old that makes seeing her live addictive."—Express Night Out. Her repertoire includes blues, swing, R&B, sixties pop and folk, and the occasional Broadway tune. pamparker.com
